About Ying Qian, M.D.

Dr. Qian is an internal medicine doctor board-certified in family medicine.

She diagnoses and treats a wide variety of conditions in adults, including cardiovascular disease, diabetes, and hypertension. Dr. Qian also provides annual exams, immunizations, specialist referrals, and health education, among other services.

Dr. Qian is committed to providing value-based patient care and advocates for quality health care and health equity in our diverse patient communities. She takes a comprehensive approach to help patients meet their health needs and goals through empathy, engagement, collaboration, and informed decision making.

Her commitment to community service is demonstrated through nearly 20 years' experience as a volunteer ranging from performing fundraising for local churches, public schools, and community centers to providing primary care to senior citizens and underserved communities, as well as emotional support to children with special needs and victims of domestic violence.

When not working, Dr. Qian enjoys listening to music, playing the piano, biking, hiking, photography, and traveling.
